Victor A. Muñoz
Organ Donor

“He definitely made an impact in all the lives that he touched, including up to the very end of his life where he became a donor.” ♥

My husband Victor born in Cali, Colombia, will always be remembered for the wonderful and helpful human being that he was in our Hispanic/Latino community. He served our community as one of the best paralegals that I've ever met. Victor always went out of his way to help others, so humble and dedicated. He loved to play the drums, travel, wine, and dine. He definitely made an impact in all the lives that he touched, including up to the very end of his life, where he became a donor, and a part of him continues living in his purpose of helping others. He is deeply missed and will never be forgotten.

I love you more than words can express. ~ Edith
